THE Bishop's Amazement, by David Christie Murray, a love story, with the love left out; it tells of an impecunious young man who goes a courting the Bishop's daughter. All goes along pretty smoothly until his reference discovers that the swain, although a labourer, prefers not to labour, also that there are rosy visions of the probability of his daughter having to turn the mangle in the near future, so he (the Bishop) promptly nips the affair in the bud, and leaves the young man "chewing the cud of sweet and bitter reflections," for as our tame poet says, "A change had come o'er the spirit of his dreams." No one should miss reading this delightful novel. David Christie Murray is always good, but sometimes he's better than others. On sale at Jacobsen's, 499 Florida, corner Lavalle.

THE MASSARENES is the title of the latest book by Ouida; in it she has chosen to depict Modern Society, as it has come to be in its latest phases. In one sense this novel is a satire on the new Plutocracy; in another sense, it is a brilliant picture of a contemporary mania. You can get this book in a paper edition at The English Book Exchange, 333 Florida. We have just received The Windsor Magazine for June, with many pictures of Her Majesty's eminent subjects. 704 14 15

REBEL RESPONSIBILITY.

The deep sensation occasioned by the news—which we publish elsewhere—of an attempt made last Saturday night by the Blancos to seize the river steamers Venus and Montevideo affords us another opportunity of directing the attention of our readers to the impotent audacity of the rebels, and dwelling on the uselessness of the revolution. Indeed it is to be observed that the salient features of this Blanco movement — if we except the hollow victory at Tres Arboles—are outrages. It is by violations of territory or by acts of piracy that we are reminded of the existence of the revolution. It is by the defection of leaders and other circumstances of a negative nature that our attention is drawn to the movements of the rebels. It is by the useless spilling of blood, as in the case of the taking of the gunboat Suarez, that our high opinion of Blanco courage is kept from falling to a lower measure. In a word, the revolution presents none of that positivity which is at once the effect and stimulant of success. The hollow, sensational and mock-heroic attempt to seize two river-steamers, laden with goods and peaceful passengers, and the subsequent effort to magnify such an act into a victory calculated to demoralize the Uruguayan Government and spread terror amongst President Borda's followers, lead us to think that the example of the Caballero de la Triste Figura has had some influence in fashioning a Blanco's notion of tactics. This attempt to seize two of our river-steamers is the most foolish of the many efforts made by the Rebels to keep their name and their cause before the public; and here we may repeat what we pointed out some time ago, that the Blancos have endeavoured to impress the Urugnayan people and enlist their sympathy and support against Borda's Government more or less in the same style in which Calchas overawed the Greeks—that is with an imitation of Jove's thunder, with all the dreadful sound without the fatal flash, with all the noise and smoke of battle without the practical effects of victory. The battle at Tres Arboles, for instance, what did it amount to? The Government troops were compelled to withdraw, and the Rebels claimed a great victory. But not a prisoner was taken, nor a position gained. Where then were the practical effects of victory? On the contrary, the Rebels too retreated. They kept near the frontier, instead of advancing as victors usually advance. It may perhaps be said of the Blanco leader that, like Hannibal, he does not know how to avail of victory.

Then again the desperate seizure of the gunboat Artigas—what did it amount to? Nothing but a "moral" victory, that is an incident calculated to momentarily demoralize the Government party. The gunboat drifted into an Argentine port, as the assailants were unable to direct it, and the prize was returned to the Uruguayan authorities. Yet, the Blancos sang the pœans of victory and cherished with unction the belief that the Uruguayan people would rise in their favour.

And now this last Quixotic effort—what does it amount to? It is a more serious matter, because the Rebels, in their possible anxiety to wound if not the cause at least the feelings of the Uruguayan president, overlooked the consequences of their conduct. They either did not see or ignored the outrageous features of what they may claim to be a desperate feat, and they perpetrated an outrage for which the Revolutionary Junta, who are responsible for the conduct of the rebellion, are directly amenable to law. The Junta or Committee reside in this city. They enjoy our hospitality and even our protection, and at one time—that is before they bungled this revolution—they enjoyed our esteem. Is it a fitting return to abuse this hospitability and this protection, to defy our esteem, and perpetrate acts of piracy in our very port. The Junta have made a very serious mistake, and, in the opinion of most people, they have compromised not only their own interests, but the very cause of the revolution. Government has brought the question of the recent outrage before the Court with the aim of determining the measure of responsibility that weighs upon the Junta; but the proceeding is unnecessary, since the authorities are justified in seizing the responsible parties, and treating them as criminal assailants. Luckily for the rebels, the outrage was not aggravated by the spilling of blood. There is no loss of life to record, although the assailants, when they attacked the popular Commander of the Venus, Captain Murray, levelled their revolvers at his head, as the most forcible argument for persuading him to deliver the vessel. The absence of bloodshed renders it possible for the Government to deal with the question with extreme leniency, but it would be well to give the rebels a lesson by sending the Junta for a trip, say to the Andes.

MEMS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

VII.

Genoa, 10th May.

I visited the two new dry docks for the purpose of comparing them with those recently constructed in Buenos Aires by Messrs. Walker, contractors for the Argentine Government. The dry docks of Genoa are private property, belonging to the Societá Esercizio Bacini, Ltd. It seems that the Italian Government gave the Company the site free, and 8 millions of lira to help the Company to make the docks, which at the expiration of 30 years revert to the Government. These docks are two in number:

Dock No. 2—Length 721 feet, breadth 81 ft. Depth in the sill 27.10 ft.

Dock No. 2 is capable of division in case of need, and in fact when I visited it, held two vessels which were undergoing repairs. The Company in addition owns a floating dock, the dimensions of which are length 324 ft, breadth 81 ft., and height 36 ft.

These splendid dry docks are the principal dry dock accommodation in Italy, and owing to their favorable position, and their cheapness, and the efficiency of their repairs, they are always busy and never empty. I walked through the extensive repairing shops, which are equipped with the best and most modern machinery: they have large travelling cranes, and electric gear, and everything necessary for executing with despatch repairs of all classes of ships, steamers, engines and boilers.

Mr. Serafino Ferro, the director, who showed me over the docks speaks English fluently, and knows Mr. Luiggi, the Italian Government engineer, who is at present in the Plate. Mr. Ferro spoke in the highest terms of Mr. Luiggi's great engineering abilities, and pointed to me some of the great works he constructed in the new harbour of Genoa. He congratulated the Argentine Republic on securing the services of such a distinguished engineer, adding that whatever he does, he does well. We walked all over the premises and saw the powerful engines and pumps. These pumps, can empty the dock in 2½ hours, 36,000 metres: nearly all the machinery comes frem the workshops of Tosi, Milan, who has a European fame for his machines. There are from 800 to 900 men constantly employed at these docks, and Mr. Ferro gave me the following list of the principal owners who have docked their steamers in these Genoese docks:—

Royal Italian Navy.
United States Navy.
Argentine Republic Navy.
Navagazione Generale Italiana.
La Veloce Co.
Societá Ligure Romana.
Societá Italo Braziliana.
Puglia Societá di Navigazione.
P. and O. Steam Navigation Co.
Pacific Steam Navigation Co.
Prince Steam Shipping Co.
Hamburg Steam Packet Co.
Nord Deutscher Lloyd.
Adria-Royal Hungarian Nav. Co.

Total tonnage of vessels and steamships docked in last year—1,187,324 tons.

Of course all these details will only have interest for those of your readers connected with the shipping trade, but I send them to you, to shew what a means of new revenue for your Government the new docks at the Madero Port may prove, as these Genoese docks are only a few years open, and when started many merchants of Genoa thought they would not pay.

The trade of Genoa is so rapidly increasing that soon they will have to make a new harbor. People from all parts arrive daily at Genoa. All the hotels are doing a large business. I met with parties from Ceylon who knew Mr. Anderson of the London Bank, others from Australia and New Zealand who have friends in the Plate. Others from Manilla, others from Bombay and Japan, and very many Englishmen just arrived from Constantinople and from Athens. It seems to me that Genoa is the great landing place for all travellers North, South East and West of the whole world. Apart from these you have half the aristocracy of Europe coming up from the Riviera, and Mr. Pollinini, the well known banker of Buenos Ayres who resides in Genoa, where he has a large banking establishment, assured me that it is estimated the amount which tourists and travellers spend in Italy every year reaches ten millions pounds sterling, which is of itself a splendid revenue, and which will always make Italy a very rich country. I went on the Bolsa yesterday in company with Mr. Maccio, who has so many friends in B. Aires, and who some years ago was President of the Bolsa of Buenos Aires. The hall was very crowded, and at every point I stumbled upon friends from Buenos Aires. Mr. Rocca, the great B. Aires broker, Mr. Bianchi, Dr. Marengo, Mr. Repetto and many others whose names I forget, all "welcomed me on'Change." They all looked well, happy and prosperous, and all assured me that in a few months they will return to Buenos Aires, as the conviction here is that the Argentine Republic has at last turned the corner and is now the most promising country for Italian emigration and Italian trade.

Yours,
Dr. Syntax.

DARING BLANCO PLOT.

CAPTURE OF VENUS AND MONTEVIDEO.

COL. SMITH FALLS INTO A SNARE.

RECAPTURE OF VENUS BY PORT CAPT. GARCIA.

400 REBELS TAKEN PRISONER.

(From our Monday Issue.)

A most cleverly devised, skilfully carried out and daring plot, on the part of the Blanco Revolutionary Committee here in Buenos Aires, was yesterday frustrated by a mere accident. The story is a complete novel in miniature and, to give the last page first, it may be at once stated that 400 young Orientals the majority of whom are less than 30 years of age are at this moment lying under arrest in the Boca, having been captured by the Argentine authorities, when on their way to join their compatriots who, probably for the very purpose of receiving them, have for the last few days been besieging Salto.

Briefly stated, what happened is the following. On Saturday night the two river-boats Venus and Montevideo left the Darsena as usual, bound for Montevideo. Nothing unusual occurred on the voyage till at about 10 p.m. when, as both vessels were passing the La Plata port, the Captains were summoned to surrender their respective vessels by armed bands of Blanco rebels, who had embarked in Buenos Aires as peaceful passengers. Their number on board the Venus was 150 and on the Montevideo 100. No resistance was possible and the engines, by order of the pirates—for they were nothing less—were at once reversed and the two vessels steamed up river again, and, under cover of darkness, arrived at a point about 15 miles off Belgrano in a direct line to Martin Garcia. There they found two barges which were waiting for them on board of which was another band of 200 rebels, who were promptly transferred to the Venus, the 100 men on board the Montevideo being also transhipped to the Venus as soon as there was sufficient light to effect the operation. The Montevideo, relieved of her unwelcome guests, was then permitted to resume her voyage. We must now leave the 400 rebels sucking mate in the early morning and take up the other thread of our tale.

On Saturday night, "by the moon-beams misty light," there left the vicinity of Belgrano the two barges with the 200 men who were to await the arrival of the Venus and Montevideo. Almost at the same time the little tug-boat, Don Carlos, steamed out into the river from the same spot having on board the famous revolutionary Col. Smith who was to command the expedition on its way to join Lamas near Salto. It was, apparently, the gallant Colonel's intention to join at once the Venus and Montevideo. All had been carefully planned and success seemed secured. However, the rebels had not counted on the vigilance of the Argentine authorities. About 3 o'clock yesterday morning the lights of a steamer were descried by the Don Carlos and, jumping to the conclusion that it was either the Venus or Montevideo, the Colonel steamed down on the approaching vessel. Unfortunately for the rebel cause the stranger turned out to be an Argentine Government coast-guard boat on the look out for adventures. The unintentioned trap into which he had fallen was discovered all too late, and Smith found himself a prisoner. Explanations were useless, a rat was smelt and the little vessel hurried back to the Boca. Arrived there the Port Captain Garcia was immediately acquainted with the news and at 7 a.m. yesterday morning he started up river in the Gaviota, accompanied by about 30 armed sailors. In the meantime Don Nicolás Mihanovich had descried, from his watch-tower in Calle 25 de Mayo, his pet steamer Venus lying at anchor out in the offing, and it was at once understood that something very serious had happened. The Gaviota, apprised of the new development of affairs, steered straight for the Venus, which by the by was now seen to have a companion. This turned out to be the Olympo which on her way down from Asuncion had been signalled to and compelled by the Venus to range up alongside. When Port Captain Garcia arrived on the scene the rebels were in the act of transhipping the passengers on board of the Venus to the boat from Paraguay.

Garcia immediately summoned the Blanco pirates to surrender themselves to the Argentine flag, an order which was reluctantly obeyed.

The torpedo-boat Entre Rios having shortly afterwards joined the Gaviota the propeller of the Venus was once more set revolving and, attended by her captors, she entered the Bocaabout 2 p.m. yesterday afternoon. There the crest-fallen 400 remain for the present.

So ends this strange, eventful history. Had Colonel Smith been more cautious, or had the coast guard-boat happened to have cruised in a different direction on Saturday night, the result might well have been very different; though it is hardly likely that the gallant 400 would have escaped the vigilance of the Oriental gun-boats Vidiella and Suarez. As event have turned out the Blanco cause has suffered a serious blow which indirectly may greatly alter the present current of affairs.

PARIS LADIES' LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

Paris, May 22nd, 1897.

Ladies have received such a scare not alone by the Charity Bazaar calamity, but from the discussions and inspections bearing upon the alleged absence of security in Concert Rooms and at Theatres that unless an establishment displays the certificate of the Prefect de Police, that the building they intend to enter is safe against panic and fire, they will retire. There was a time when the Gauls feared nothing but the heavens falling on their heads. The timidity of the ladies is not altogether groundless; besides, suspicion is the mother of safety. Alarm has been toned down—or augmented by a company issuing tickets for two sous—as if on a railway—insuring each spectator for the evening against accidents, or compensation in the event of a misfortune.

The hook and eye seats in the theatres, known as "strapontins," and the most successful of contributions to block up all egress passages, will for the future be abolished; but Parisians are so accustomed to that reform—when a catastrophe occurs—that they prefer to see it realized ere they burn a tar barrel in its honor; experience attests, the more the play house authorities reform, the more matters remain the same. A "would be centarian" urges upon the Prefect while he is in a Draconian frame of mind, to shorten the interludes between the acts, and thus lessen the risk of exposure to martyrdom: he pays 10 francs for a ticket to witness a representation, which actually in acting occupies but 95 minutes, while the sum total of time devoted to the entr'actes posts up to 53 minutes by Shrewsbury clock.

It is expected that the new Central Charity Bazaar on the now too famous site, and to be in iron, stone and glass will be completed before the close of the year. Subscriptions poured in like a Pactolus stream. Workmen are now employed screening the debris of the late wooden structure, and continue to find remnants of molten jewellery and remains of calcined human bones. As a Memorial Chapel will be erected on a corner of the site, it is suggested that the debris be deposited in a deep pit, and the chapel built over same. Opinion is opposed to interring the unrecognised remains of the three poor bodies preserved for judicial purposes in the Morgue, on the site, and to erect over the spot a plinth of black marble with a pyramid mounting on which to engrave the names of the 127 victims. Perhaps it is better to have the cenotaph inside the Expiatory Church.

The Minister of the Interior has terminated the last act of the fearful tragedy in a happy manner. All the persons officially recommended as having distinguished themselves in the work of saving human life as brands from the burning were invited to attend at the Home Office, when the Minister handed to each brave—female as well as male—either a gold or a silver medal. The cabman "Georges" was specially compensated with the decoration of the Legion of Honor, and after pinning it upon his breast, the Minister embraced him, stating he was extra glad, because the merit was won by an "enfant du peuple." Georges did not save so many, or helped to do so, people as others, by means of ladders, etc. His rescue work was, it may be said, a hand to hand encounter with the flames, with death itself. He stated he was in the stable of his employer, cleaning the harness, preparatory to taking his place on the stand; but as his horse seemed tired he resolved to give it an hour's extra rest to be made up for later in the evening. Suddenly he observed, close by, a sheet of flame burst up, and then creeping and licking around the wooden Bazaar structure. He pulled on his big coat, rushed to the furnace, and seeing his friend the road waterer with hose in hand, told him to play upon him while he dashed at, and into the flames, and dragged out alive, a poor lady. He repeated that plunge into Phlegethon ten times, winning at each visit, till the roof fell in, and all was then over. He received very severe burns, from the poor ladies on fire clinging to him. But he rescued ten from cremation.

It is a painful matter to allude to, but lady society is very wroth at the conduct of the gentlemen—between 40 and 50—in the building at the moment of the fire, abandoning the ladies to save themselves, and striking down with their canes, fists, and feet, all the poor creatures who clutched at them to gain the sole open door. Eye-witnesses of this scandalous desertion insist on the names of the arrant cowards being published. In any case there was but one "Georges," and he constituted the whole forlorn hope.

The funeral of the Duc d'Aumale was the occasion of lady royalists counting themselves to hold a kind of informal court circle to receive the Duchess d'Orleans, who represented her exiled husband at the funeral, as head of the House of France. Her partizans treated her with queenly deference, and she expected that, while acknowledging the homage; but it was a sad spectacle all the same trying to galvanize court life in the midst of republican institutions and manners. The Duchess is a niece of the Empress of Austria; it was her first visit to France. Her aunt, the ex Queen of Naples, who resides in Paris since 1861, declined to attend the funeral, refusing to give the "pas" to her niece the Duchesse. The remains of the late Duke were interred in the Orleanist St. Denis necropolis at Dieux in Normandy beside the remains of his wife and their seven children —the family is now extinct. When the late Duke married at 21 he was as poor as a church mouse; but his wife, also his own age—they were truly lovers—had untold wealth from vineyards and sulphur mines in Sicily. Louis Philippe was not rich. Queen Victoria, when he was driven from the French throne in 1848, placed Clermont House at the disposal of the royal exile and his family. In his college days the late Duke, when his slender pocket-money was run out, would borrow his sister's watch to have it "repaired", but really to confide it to "his uncle", or rather "sa tante"—the French for the pawnbroker .Louis Philippe in his exile during the first revolution had to live in Switzerland, by giving lessons in mathematics for 2 francs per hour.

"La Duse," thanks to Sarah Bernhardt's kindness, is able to appear in Paris, at Sarah's theatre, in Sarah's star roles, in Italian, of course. She is assured 16,000 francs for each of ten representations. Elenora Duse is self-educated; is very simple, and about 36 years of age. She dreads journalists, because in Italy a reporter printed Madame had such a horror of fish that the sight of a red herring gave her hysterics.

Wagner's "Vaisseau-Fantome" has just been brought out at the Chatelet Theatre. It was one of the great composer's juvenile works. He composed it in 1842, at Meudon, outside Paris, sold the workpoem and score—for 500 francs to Pillet, the Director of the Opera. Pillet utilized the librette, but secured one Dietsch to write another score. After 55 years the original work is now given for the first time in Paris. It has not the slightest family resemblance to Wagner's famous compositions "Lohengrin," etc., it is a pleasing gathering of Italian and German harmonies. The overture is excellent.

As summer has at last arrived, there is a rush for the newest fashions. There are really no innovations. All that appears "original" is effected by the trimings and colours. The latter constitute the real central attraction; they form an orgy, and though mixed pellmell-like, are not ranked as ridiculous. The wearer has only to adopt the dominant colours—blue mauve, red, green—to her years, her features and style of expression, and she may wear what tint she pleases in gown, hat and vestment. The sun ray or "plisse-soleil" flounce is in great vogue; one I noticed was a jupe made of five of them in black China crape edged with gold; but a lady must be tall and slim for this style. At the waist in other cases the frock is plain, the lower part being reversed for the trimmings or two or three flounces. Sleeves are worn long and mostly fringed. Hats tend to be more and more small-shaped, but with eccentric crowns. Tan boots and Scotch hose are patronized; Scotch patterns for the cravats worn with the 1830 falling collar. The attempt to attach demi-season collets to the waist has not succeeded.

SPAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

The Prime Minister of Spain is said to have declared that he is convinced that the rumors as to the probable intervention of the States in the Cuban question are false; that President McKinley is, he believes, actuated by friendly feelings towards Spain, and anyway, if it proves otherwise, he will find the country ready and able to defend its rights. Also he thinks the Ruiz affair, if it is proved that there was not sufficient reason for his arrest and detention, simply resolves itself into a question of indemnity to his widow.

This is all very nice, from the Spanish point of view; but, while we do not for a moment question President McKinley's friendliness, we are afraid that what he may consider a friendly act may strike our Spanish friends as being just the opposite. When the question of voting 50,000 dollars for the relief of American citizens in Cuba was brought up in the House, and some members wished to mix the belligerency question up with it, Representative Hitt, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, whose relations with the President are very close, and who had been in consultation with him, said:—"I have no right to speak by any authority, but," here he hesitated as to the wording of his sentence. "I have reason to believe that the President is taking as active effective steps as he can to secure the independence of Cuba, and that fact, I am convinced, has reached Spanish headquarters. For news reached us to-day that the Minister, who will probably be in power in 30 days has said that the war in Cuba is utterly hopeless." There exists a general feeling in Washington that something should be done to bring the Cuban revolution to an end and to secure the independence of the island, if possible. That this is so, there is no doubt. In the Senate a majority seem to be willing to try and force the President's hand, as the passage of the Morgan resolution shows, while in the House the leaders believe that he should be allowed to formulate his own plans, or in other words, that it is a question for the Executive and not for the Legislative Department of the Government.

It is evident that a very different view is taken in Washington and Madrid of the same questions. In Washington, the Ruiz affair is not considered to involve simply a question of indemnity; it is much more far-reaching. Yesterday's telegrams state that the note of instruction in this case to the American Minister at Madrid is ready for the President's signature, and that it requests that Colonel Fondeviela and the officials of the prison where Dr. Ruiz died, be punished.

Madrid telegrams inform us that what they are pleased to term, "the project to annex the Hawiian Islands to the United States" has seriosly alarmed the Cabinet, they being afraid that it is a pointer as to the future policy to be pursued by the McKinley administration in respect to Cuba. Sr. Silvela, the leader of the Ultra Conservative Party, has made a great speech censuring the policy being followed by the Prime Minister in a most decided manner. The Cuban question should be settled at once, he said Gen. Weyler is incapable of bringing the war to an end, and much more so of carrying out the necessary reforms in the island. The reforms already conceded are a plain confession to America of incapacity to govern Cuba. The war must be carried on unrelentingly to the end, or the question of abandoning the island must be seriously considered. The Spanish Government and the people are every day becoming more estranged, and the internal peace of the country can not be maintained much longer under existing conditions. This speech is said to have produced a profound impression throughout the country.

On Sunday the Spanish American visitors in New York city concluded their visit to the surrounding manufacturing cities and towns and many of them visited the great establishment of the New York Herald and were greatly interested The real journey of the party has now begun, as they left on one of the noted steamers of the Fall River line on Sunday night for Boston and Eastern points, and for the next month will be on the move pretty much all the time.

The delegates to the Universal Postal Congress on Saturday returned to Washington after their nine days' trip to various points of interest, well pleased with their journey, having everywhere received great attention. The Congress is now ended, and yesterday the records and official papers received the signatures of all the delegates.

THE BRITISH HORSE-COMMISSION.

Colonel Truman and his brother officers are fast drawing near to the completion of their task. Of the total number of criollo horses required, between 800 and 1000—nearly all have already been secured, all of 57 inches in height say 1m. 45, the average height of the criollo being barely more than 55 inches. The commission have more offers of horses from all sides that they can possibly consider. In fact it is a difficult task for them to decide where to go amid such a wealth of urgent appeals to go and buy. The desire of the commission has, apparently, rather been to thoroughly revise all the horses in the country than to buy the necessary number in the easiest and quickest manner; since, once having obtained the knowledge of what there are, it will be an easy matter, should necessity arise, to lay their hands on what may be required. Hitherto only those animals have been accepted which were able to pass a searching veterinary examination, but should several thousands be wanted, it is probable that animals practically as good might be accepted and these could be secured almost in any reasonable number. Up till now only from 10 to 20% of the horses inspected have been selected, the remainder being refused on account of height or unsoundness, an extraordinary number being found disqualified for defects of vision, caused probably by the infamous native carelessness, if not brutality, of striking colts about the head when teaching them their reins.

The number still wanting will easily be obtained during the next few days, and with the 400 to 500 well bred blood "mestizo" colts, almost all of which have already been secured, will before the end of the present month be shipped to the Cape. These colts are all of 61 inches in height, and are purchased to take rank with the ordinary chargers—to carry say 14 to 16 stone—usually bought in England. The average price of the criollo horses, placed on board ship, will be about £5, or $75 paper a piece, a price which leaves a very ample profit to the ordinary "gaucho" or "estanciero" proprietor.

The price of the colts is naturally more than double that sum, and at the same time they are much more difficult to obtain than the criollo horses, since almost every horse-breeder in the Republic is in the habit of crossing with draught strains to provide animals easy of sale in the cities. Speaking generally we think that the British Commission must be very satisfied with the result of their inspection, and we doubt not that Colonel Truman will be able to present to the War Office such a favourable report of Argentine horse-flesh as to warrant our estancieros in breeding criollo animals, especially in view of this new market now opened to them.

The Sarnifugo-Nicotina, Sheep Dip which has just been introduced into this country is worthy of note. It consists simply of pure tobacco juice and is remarkably rich in nicotine, hence its name. The main advantage this dip possesses over all others lies in its extraordinary strength, a flask of less than one litre making 360 litres of remedy of dipping strength. Cassels and Co. of 664 Cangallo are the importers and will supply an interesting pamphlet on the subject. 13 xp

FLORES GOLF CLUB.

The 2nd competition under handicap for the "Miller Cup" will be played on the 20th inst. Entries $2 each, to be sent in to the Hon. Sec., 132 Maipú, not later than the 18th.

LOMAS GOLF LINKS.

The Third of the series of Monthly Silver Medal Competitions was played on Sunday last. Of the 20 competitors who had entered their names 19 played. The late rains left the grass wet and some what heavy going, but all things considered the greens were in fair order. There was no exceptional display of good golf as the scores show, probably the chief weakness was in the putting. Mr. J. Marjoribanks came in winner with the lowest nett score 101 and Mr. D. Leighton second with gross 100 handicaped to give 2 making 102.

The following scores were handed in.

	1st round	2nd round	Gross	Handicap	Nett

Amongst others on the links we noticed M. G. Fortune, the brothers P. and H. Smith, not taking part in the competition.

Some interesting foursomes were played in the afternoon but we have not the particulars before us.

RIVADAVIA GOLF LINKS.

An open handicap was played on the Rivadavia Links last Sunday. The day favored the players, but the ground was heavy owing to the late rains. The greens played true and the competitors, delighted with the links, pronounced them the best in the Argentine. The honor of the game fell to M. Nicholson. who holed out in excellent form, in 104 strokes.

The following were the score:—

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

A very excellent programme has been arranged for the Jubilee Entertainment to be given in the Italian Hall, Banfield tomorrow. The first part consists of a concert in which the Misses Stalker, Miss Sotham, and Messrs Scharenberg, Wilmott, Sims, Holt Green, Poulton and Humphreys take part. The second part will consist of the Serpentine Dance by Miss Geor-Belmoti, to be followed by a farce "Number 157 B" in which Messrs Stocks, Kingsland, Hirst, Sims, Goode and G. Willmott will act. The entertainment will commence at 8 p.m. punctually and conclude in time for visitors to catch the last train to the city. There will be a dance afterwards for Banfield residents.

In consequence of indisposition, the concert that should have been given last night in Prince George's Hall by Prof. Zanella has been postponed to a future date, of which due notice will be given.

The Skating Rink was crowded on Sunday, both afternoon and evening and skaters had a very pleasant time of it. Professor Arripe created quite a sensation by his beautiful exhibition of fancy skating. To-night is "Noche de moda" for which a special programme has been prepared.

Fregoli the wonderful monologist is expected at the end of this week. His debut at the San Martin will probably take place on Saturday the 26th inst.

If there is one thing above all others by which Frank Brown has made himself so popular it is his readiness to come forward with benefits for all deserving societies. Last night it was for the "Circulo de la Prensa" and it is much to be regretted that those connected with the fourth estate did not turn up in larger numbers, as both the programme and object of the performance were well worth a better attendance.

To-night the performance is for the benefit of the "Centro Argentino" and a full house should result as the programme is first-class.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent)

June 14th.

The Third Court of Appeal has confirmed the order of imprisonment against the Bahia Blanca escribanos Cambras and Larrabuso, for forgery of a public deed of transfer of land, and has also refused the petition of their counsel to allow them out on bail.

The Senate is summoned to meet tomorrow. The Bill granting 60 days more for payment of taxes in arrear is in the order of the day for discussion, and the Minister of Finance will inform the House as to the state of the case.

The Electoral Junta will meet to-morrow in the Senate House, to continue the drawings for the "mesas" in those towns where the Municipalities have not fulfilled this duty within the legal time.

Dr. Martiniano Leguizamon has been named Chief Clerk in the Finance Office.

There will be races in the Hippodrome on Thursday, a holiday.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

"Social Life" amongst our adopted countrymen yesterday was the reverse of gay, and there was a depressing proportion of funerals and cases of illness in the Fashionable Intelligence columns of our leading Argentine contemporaries. The other communities seemed to be all right. As for that which speaks nothing but English, its thoughts were fixed on the Cinderella prance to-morrow night and the Jubilee racket next week. The Weather Clerk wept copiously in the morning, dried his eyes at noon, and was himself again at night. People were asking for Mr. Campos, the La Plata Wiggins, wanting to know why he forgot to predict the rain. From Europe the abortive attempt to do for President Faure was the topic of the day. It was no lunatic who fired the bomb, as at first supposed. The Anarchists are at the bottom of the business, and the guillotine has another job before it, as an attempt to murder by Anarchists now, we believe, gets the death penalty in France. The negotiations for peace between Turk and Greek are still stuck in the mud. The Sultan continues to largely reinforce Edem Pasha's army in Thessaly. The Great Assassin is evdently not playing on the square; and nobody can fathom the reason for Kaiser William backing him up, uuless it be that the master of many legions wishes to create another might—is—right precedent, with some ulterior object in view.

All the arrangements for the Corpus Christi procession on Thursday round Plazas Victoria and Mayo have been completed. It is expected to be the most numerously attended as yet seen in this city, if the weather prove fine.

This is kissing day in Italian, for that fine steamer the Regina Margherita, which had the honour of being the first vessel to enter the first Argentine Dry Dock. Don't forget that the Mails close at the G. P. O. at noon sharp. After that hour, good people, double postage, even for the President of the Republic if he happen to be late.

There was a pretty stiff blaze in a big oil factory in Calle Belgrano yesterday morning at 4 o'clock. The Bomberos could do little with the flames till Jupiter Pluvius sailed in with his hose and soon settled the business. Considerable damage was done. Place insured for $120,000.

With deep and sincere regret we record the death, in his 36th year of Mr. Andre Wagner, C. E. son of Mr. Raoul Wagner, formerly French Minister here. The demise of this young man is all the more to be regretted since he was endowed with talents of a superior order and would, in the ordinary course of things have risen to very high eminence in his profession. He was a frequent visitor to the STANDARD sanctum, and so far back as 5 years ago, predicted in a series of remarkable articles signed Cassandra (in our columns), the Chilian war-scare of the last two years. Although French by birth, taste and education, he studied a good deal in England, where he obtained his diploma of civil engineer, and was as well versed in English literature as a Master of Arts. Death surprised him (miserande puer!) in Rio, where he had been working for some time as engineer. To his family we tender our condolence.

Mr. Angel Premi, the well-known painter, has just finished a nice picture dedicated to her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, on her Diamond Jubilee: it is on view in the well-known establishment of Tarelli Bros. 353 Calle Maipu. We much regret that it is quite impossible for us to accede to Mr. Premi's request to reproduce his picture in our columns on the 22d inst.

Dear Mr. Editor: Will you kindly inform me through the medium of your esteemed paper whether it is necessary to fly an Argentine Flag alongside of an English Flag on the occasion of the Queen's Jubilee?

Englishman.

We think it would be only simple courtesy to our adopted country to do so; but we believe the obligation also exists.

Messrs. L. Kenny and A. Blanchard have been named Professors of English in the National College.

A telegram from Bio Blanco in the Andes informs us that on Saturday Dr. Cotton, proprietor of the Sanatorium at Puente del Inca, and Mr. Lightbody, member of the Fitzgerald party, arrived there from Buenos Ayres. They left Inca on Monday 7th and arrived in five hours at Cuevas, where they had to remain for three nights, owing to a storm. They left Cuevas on Thursday, reached Portillo in five hours, and had to remain there for two nights. The weather in the Andes is now fine.

A second visit to the studio of Mrs. Annie Newbery Thomas in Calle Rivadavia 1613, fully confirms the first impressions. The works exhibited are most meritorious and well worth a visit. In consequence of the unpropitious weather experienced during the past two days, many intending visitors have found it inconvenient to go, and Mrs. Thomas has very wisely determined to keep the exhibition open for to-day, both afternoon and evening.

A shocking catastrophe is reported from Bengal, where a shock of earthquake threw a railway train off the line, and over 200 persons were killed and injured.

The honourable Deputies of the Nation no-quoed again yesterday. Viva! Bis!

There was nothing new from Salto. yesterday. The laughable Venus and Montevideo affair has eclipsed all interest in the movements of Lamas and Saraiva. At the same time, if all accounts be true, trouble is brewing for President Borda in his own house. The Independent Colorado party are apparently preparing for a "coup d'état" and Don Juan's permanence in the Presidential chair looks extremely problematical.

The Blanco pirates, who number nearly 450 men, were yesterday afternoon transferred from the Venus to the Rodolfo Viso of lugubrious memory. (By the by the Hospital ship has this year enjoyed a complete holiday.) A demand for their release has been presented by Señor Torcuato Campos, and the plea will in due course be handed to the Federal judge when it has been reported on by the Fiscal.

Our enterprising contemporary La Prensa completely destroyed yesterday the appetites for breakfast of all its readers, by publishing sketches of Dr. Sanarelli's yellow fever bacillus, and portraits of a repulsively fat giant and giantess that would frighten a troop of cavalry horses from their maize, alfalfa and water.

Ladies, look out for your big hats, Read the following, from New York:—

"The crusade against the large matinée hat has been triumphantly vindicated in America. By a large majority a Bill has passed through the Assembly at Albany by which the fair wearer of the obstructing hat will be liable to a fine of five dollars if she refuses to remove her headgear. The Bill has still to pass the Senate, but the members of that gilded Chamber have also experienced the view-destroying hat from the luxurious cushions of the stalls. There is no doubt that the Bill will become law, and theatre-goers in New York owe a great debt of gratitude to the indefatigable gentleman who brought it forward."

Here is a Scotch divine's opinion of the Old and the New Woman:—"I may honestly say that I like all kinds of women but two—and these two are the New Woman and the Old Woman. The New Woman, according to my definition of her, is a woman trying to be a man; while the Old is, for the most part, a man trying to be woman. And for neither of these personages have I much sympathy or respect."

A very pleasant conversazione and Social evening will be held to-morrow evening in the hall adjoining St. Andrew's Scotch Church No. 352 Calle Peru, the special object being the introduction to the Congregation, and those connected with the Scotch Schools, of Mr. MacPherson and Mr. Laidlaw, respectively head master and principal assistant. A cordial invitation to be present is extended to all friends.

Sunday last was a suicide day: no less than four cases, all in humble life. The dull, dark weather and north wind must have had something to say to this spurt in self-slaughter.

Another British subject in the Republic, this time a lady, who saw her Majesty's Coronation and Marriage. We hope the Committee will send her a special invitation to the loyal racket on the 22nd. She favoured us with the following yesterday:—

June 12th, 1894.

Dear Mr. STANDARD,

I was one of the Sunday School Scholars who attended the tea party given in honour of H. M. Queen Victoria's coronation in 1837, and also that given at her marriage.

Mrs. John Gravell.

June 14th, 1897.

Dear Mr. Editor,

I saw in your paper some days back that Mr. White was in England at the time of the Coronation and Marriage of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. But still there is another gentleman here in Buenos Aires, Mr. Thomas Ayliffe, residing at Lomas de Zamora, that was present on both occasions. Mr. Ayliffe came to this country in 1842.

Yours truly,
W. H. C.

B. Ayres, 14th June, 1897.

Dear STANDARD,

Having just seen the note of J. W. White in your issue of Friday 11th inst. in which he states he is, perhaps, the only Englishman in the Republic that was a spectator of the Coronation and Marriage of H.M. Queen Victoria, will you please inform him through your esteemed paper that the undersigned was also a spectator on both occasions, and was also present at a review of the Life Guards at the Albany Barracks, by His R.H. Prince Albert, with twenty other young noblemen, about a month before he was married to the Queen.

I may also state that my mother, the oldest English lady in this country, now in her 90th year, was also present on both occasions.

Yours very truly,
W. J. Corrales.

Our tremendous colleague "Labby" is still sticking to the portly Premier like a true British bull-dog. In a speech to the "Radical Liberal Association" on Saturday, he said that Great Britain might as well or better guarantee the integrity of H—ll and the empire of the D—l rather than that of the Turkish empire! This is nice and mild, as is Labby's wont when "going for" things and persons in his best style.

The Land of the Rising Sun is rapidly becoming Anglified. The Japs all swear by old England, but don't like Jonathan. Seventeen daily and weekly papers are published in the English language in Japan, and over 100 on the Asiatic Continent, while in all these countries there is only one German paper, the "Ostasiatische Lloyd". A weekly German paper is soon to be issued in Japan.

High society in all parts of the world must always have its whims in customs, pronunciation, using a fork instead of a spoon and anything that may give a chance for some silly innovation. It is the "correct thing" now at the Opera House not to wait to listen to the last act of any opera, even if it be the best in the piece. We are unable to say whether this is an idiotic freak of fashion, or is due to the admitted fact that Ferrari has not brought out this year as good a troupe as last. Perhaps there is a little of both reasons; but the innovation is very hard on and uncomplimentary to the poor singers, who all do their best to earn their living, like the rest of us.

When the Indian Government was recently asked by the Home Government to allow two mountain batteries to go out of India for foreign service, the request was refused, on the ground that to let 12 of the 1896 breech loading mountain guns go out of the country might seriously cripple a very important branch of the army in case of an emergency. The recent affair on the Afghanistan border may prove just such an emergency.

Friday evening last the South American visitors in N. York were given a brilliant reception and a magnificent banquet by the Catholic Club of that city. The usual speeches about closer relations, commercial, social, etc, were made and received with great "gusto" by all present. The reception was brightened by the presence of many ladies.

The National Railway Board has represented to the Minister that the National railways should be made to join the Railway Clearing House.

The Bike! The Bike! Beware of it ladies; and now we know the reason why of all the fearfully bad and ungraceful dancing, (especially by young men) we see when we don our "frac", choker and pumps, and drop in at a public ball, merely to look on and be reminded of the years when we were young and gay, and worshipped Terpsychore. Read the following:—"We have had the bicycle face and the bicycle back and the bicycle foot, possibly the bicycle ear, but not until now has the community discovered that there is such a thing as a bicycle leg. She is a devoted disciple of the wheel. In telling of her experience she says that at a dance she attended after a long ride on her wheel, the muscles of her legs seemed stiff and unyielding except when making those motions required in the peddling of wheels. The consequence was that although a good dancer, her legs would persist in having a sort of a bicycle motion when she was waltzing or dancing the two-step, making her appear so awkward that everybody noticed it, and the erratic muscular performances of her legs made her such a disagreeable partner that no young fellow would ask her a second time to dance. This is a very serious matter, and should be taken under advisement at once. We can stand the bicycle face and the camel's hump on the back, but when it comes to the bicycle leg, this is carrying the influence of the bicycle to an extremity at which most people kick."

The White Rose shillabaloo on board the river steamers Venus and Olimpo was an awfully botched business, and only made the public laugh yesterday. Such coming and going and tacking and twisting, and all for nothing, to end in unheroic capture, amounts to the ridiculous.

How strange! Benjamin Constant is no fool. A curious story of the late Duchess d'Alençon is told by M. Benjamin Constant, the French artist. The Royal stallholder at the Charity Bazaar solicited the artist for a sketch to adorn her stall. He was racking his brain for a subject when a model was announced—a country girl, who sat with her head to one side, and, with her hands behind her, leaned back upon a pole. The pose was such as to make the artist exclaim: "What a Joan of Arc at the stake." He painted the picture, and was returning to the Duchesse d'Alençon with it next day when he learned that she had lost her life at the awful fire. The artist believes that in painting the martyrdom of Joan of Arc his pencil was guided by an unseen hand.

The last Boletin of the Argentine Geographical Society is full of interest, containing most attractive articles, especially one on the Polar Regions, and another on that dear old suburb Quilmes, now "so English, you know," and so go-ahead in everything, from strawberries to smoking concerts.

Gold Premium

FIRST RING..... 195·00
SECOND RING..... 195.00

Things were unusually dull on 'Change to-day, no business doing, and few people there, a result of the watery, overcast, good-for-ducks kind of day. Even the after-hour knots were wanting, which lent additional desolation to the Sahara-Desert-like aspect of hall and ring. These after-hour groups are a special feature of the Bolsa. All the rumours and reports and "ballons d' essai" etc. calculated to improve the market, send gold soaring or slumping, and stocks jumping or collapsing, are originated, trimmed and set going there. The brokers are a happy-go-lucky, easy-going, give-and-take lot on the whole; genial and generous mostly, with here and there a streak of the serious element that establishes the orderly and practical as the normal of business; and as they sit around and set their quips and cranks flying, it is sometimes difficult to imagine that the bandying of the joke can be so freely indulged in, when rarely it does not mean serious questions of economy and financial interests. But when things are stupidly dull, even the Bolsa chucks is a hopeless jobstriving to galvanize interest into life. Thus it is that there is no animation at present. With business paralysed and speculation effete, Congress mooning over Platonic politics and the market in general going dead-slow, there is nothing even to talk about, develop or expand. Everything is stale and flat; exchange dead as regards business, but buoyant in tendency; gold hard set like a stuck-pig, and stocks alternately spurting and fizzling as the fit seizes. Only after a prolonged drought which is extremely rare in this zone, can a wet day be a source of interest and discussion.

Business in gold at the first hour was the acme of slackness, both as regards quantity and prices. The cash requirements formed the sole item of note, and the supply being adequate, rates showed no change and very slight oscillation, opening and closing at 295, with 20 or 30 cents backwardation for end of month and 50 cents contango for July. There are few buyers on time, and it does not seem that there is any "descubierto," all which bespeaks a very dull month. Stocks were much neglected on the whole, only Catalinas and Santa Fé Consols coming in for recognition.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$ 269,100 cash at 295-295.30.20-39-40--30-20-295-294.90-295-294. 90--80-295-295.10-30-40-30-20-295 295-295.10-295.

We understand that the English commissioners have nearly concluded their orders for purchase of remounts, and will have the whole 1500 horses shipped by end of month. They profess to be very satisfied with the result, and much pleased with their trip to the Plate, which we hope will lead up to further business.

According to Messrs. Weddel & Co.'s Colonial Dairy Produce report, the British imports of butter from Colonies and Plate from September 5th to May 15th were:—

Australia..... 189,051 cwt.
Canada..... 69,057 "
New Zealand..... 69,587 "
Argentina..... 11,482 "

We have been favoured with a copy of "Our Trade in the World," 1885 to 1895, which from a cursory skimming seems to be a very useful addition to works of statistics and reference. It is from the experienced pen of Mr. W. S. H. Gastrell, Commercial Attaché to Her Majesty's Embassy at Berlin and Legations of Copenhagen and Stockholm.

Messrs. Musson, Jewkes & Co., agents for the North British and Mercantile Insurance Co. have handed us the 1896 report, from which we extract as follows:—

"Fire Department—The losses by fire during the year have amounted to £795,812 0s 1d, which sum includes all losses ascertained and paid, and a full estimate of all claims that had arisen prior to 31st December, 1896. The Directors have set aside 40 % of the fire premiums received during the past year, as a provision against liability on the unexpired fire policies of 1896.

"Life Department—In the Life Department 3,103 policies were issued during the year 1896, assuring after deducting sums reinsured, £1,693,738, and producing new premiums to the amount of £63,830 0s 6d; together with 598 bonds securing £27,191 16s 7d yearly of immediate annuities, £800 yearly of survivorsip annuities, £935 6s 4d yearly of deferred annuities, and £8,550 of deferred payments, for which the Company received the sum of £308,861 11s 1d by single payment, and £727 2s 10d by annual premium. The claims during the year, including 80 endowments, were 676 in number, under 829 policies; and the sums amount, with bonus additions, to £582,671 16s 6d.

"As general results, at the 31st December, 1896, the balance at the credit of profit and loss amounted to £372,296 10s 2d, which includes the unappropriated balance of £73,400 7s 1d brought forward from 1895, out of which there has been passed to dividend account £165,000, leaving £207,976 10s 2d to be carried forward."

The decree of the Water Supply of the City was issued on the 11th by the Government, authorizing the Water Commission to spend 169,000 gold dollars in the acquisition of new pumping machinery from Europe, which means old England, if quality and price is to be considered. This is good news for our thirsty subscribers, who last summer failed to get even the morning bath or water for making their early coffee.

We find the following in the Money Market Review anent City of Buenos Aires Loan of 1888:—"Messrs. Louis Cohen and Sons are prepared to purchase the Coupon of this Loan due the 1st July, 1897, which is payable in currency by the City of Buenos Aires, and, the Crédito Publico being desirous of receiving the Coupons in advance of their due date, for verification, they must be presented no later than the 3rd June at the offices of Messrs, Louis Cohen and Sons, where the price at which they will be purchased can be ascertained daily.

Messrs. Louis Cohen and Sons, published, on the 18th September last, the history of the negotiations with the Argentine authorities which had been carried on in Buenos Ayres by Messrs. O. Bemberg and Co. up to that date. Since that announcement Messrs. Louis Cohen and Sons have continued to press the claims of the Bondholders through Messrs. O. Bemberg and Co., and these gentlemen addressed in December last a protest to the Chamber of Deputies. The Minister of Finance having issued a decree on the 23rd February, ordering the National Bank in liquidation to pay 2,400,000 dols. to his order, Messrs. O. Bemberg and Co. again protested against this diversion of funds, and Messrs. Louis Cohen and Sons telegraphed to the Minister in the same sense. Though his Excellency has not replied, he published on the 13th April a note to the President of the National Bank in liquidation, which seems to modify to some extent the effect of the decree of 23rd Feb. Messrs. O. Bemberg and Co. are continuing energetically to protect the interests of the Bondholders, and, although previous experience forbids a too confident expectation of an immediate issue, they hope that proposals will ultimately be made to them for a settlement of the Bondholders' rights, with a view to the preservation of which Coupons should be presented through Messrs. Louis Cohen and Sons."

We take the following interesting description of Mr. William Morgan's fine estancia "Santa Tomas" from the pen of Mr. Valentine Rua, and published in the last issue of our well informed colleague La Produccion Argentina. The property is situated in a very picturesque part of the Province of Cordoba and a league and a half from Washington on the Pacific Railway. One of the principal attractions of this fine property is the lake of Santa Tomasa which is over a league long and from 3 to 8 squares broad. There is an island in the centre on which trees and plants grow in profusion, while the borders of the broad expanse of water are surrounded with algarrobos, quebracho trees, etc. The water is as clear as crystal, and the depth of the lake varies from 50 centimetres to eight metres. Thousands of ducks, swans, and others birds are to be seen flitting across the placid waters. There are also countless numbers of nutrias, partridges, martinetas, guanacos and ostriches. The whole forms a brilliant piece of scenery and the delight of every sporstman. Mr. William Beck the genial manager of this estancia, took the visitors all over it and explained to them how such a vast property is worked. Mr. Beck proposes putting 4 leagues under alfalfa, a very paying business. A considerable number of peons are at present engaged in building a splendid estancia residence, which Mr. Beck expects will be finished by next summer. Mr. Morgan evidently spares no effort to make his estancia an enchanting retreat and has ordered the construction of a pleasure boat capable of holding 20 people. This boat will, no doubt, afford many an hour's pleasant sail on the waters of the lake to Mr. Morgan, and the visitors who will pass the greater part of next summer in the estancia. The waters of Santa Tomasa are said to be a cure for skin diseases.

Mr. Arthur S. Joseph, of Christchurch, New Zealand, en route for England in the ss Ovingdean Grange, at present in La Plata shipping live stock, was welcomed to-day. He is very largely interested in the live stock shipping trade, as though a producer at one time himself, he has given that branch up to deal exclusively as a shipper. Mr. Joseph tells us that New Zealand has given up steers altogether, unable to compete with Australia, but the wether business is very important. He is away on a vacation trip, as the rush and worry of parting, "railing" and shipping represent a fearful wear of tissue. He was agreeably surprised to find we could give him readily data of all shipments from this country, as New Zealand is terribly backwards in this respect. He was also anxious to find out how the Plate stands with Shropshires, which he says is a great desideratum for the London market. The River Plate he thinks will continue to monopolize Liverpool, as a mutton supplier, but will have to patronise Shropshires very extensively if desirous of taking a big hold of the market in London.

Mr. Valentine Rua an enterprising settler and pioneer at Washington station, F.C.P. in the famous Rio Quinto section South of Cordoba was welcomed to-day. He reports everything flourishing there. At first he says there were many difficulties to contend with, the indifference of the Government, uninviting aspect of the camps, lack of water, etc., but as the poblaciones began to extend, the alfalfares to spread, and the estancias to grow, new settlers began to see the wonderful advantages of the spot, hidden by the arid, sandy upper crust. There are now some splendid estancias there, and strange to say, the whole section is rapidly becoming an English and German colony. Mr. Rua tells us that some young Englishmen having heard of the place journeyed up with a view to settling, but were leaving in disgust till taken and shown the alfalfa fields and crystalline water drawn up for them at a few metres from the surface; they have now bought out a big tract, divested themselves of coats and hats, and become Rio Quinteros. Dr. Figueroa Alcorta's Government too is all that could be desired, a great improvement on former administrations. Mr. Mackintosh's estancia is a splendid property, and the owner has spent his money freely on it, fencing, 'poblando,' and sowing. Mr. Rua has great faith in this district, and indeed in the whole province of Cordoba, which only requires a continuance of good, sound Government to obtain a high grade of prosperity and well-being.

There seems to be quite a boom in Cordoba lands, although the prices paid appear to be rather low. Don Patricio Smith has bought 8 leagues from the Banco Hipotecario de Cordoba at the rate of 17.000 paper dollars the league of 2700 hectares. This land is on the Pacific Railway line between the Stations Washington and Paunero.

Mr. Olshausen, leading real-estate broker, was welcomed back to-day from a trip through Santa Fé, right up to San Cristobal, the English Company's estancia, Paat's and Co.'s property, and numbers of others. He broke his journey at Esperanza, where he stayed over a day with our old friend Don Santiago Denner, who, by the way, has also arrived down, leaving in charge his sons, recently returned from Europe. At Esperanza the tanyard and other factories are very brisk, but the flour mills have gone out of wheat, and some are making large quantities of oil cake and others stopped altogether. Mr. Olshansen says those who picture Santa Fé in ruins, a scene of desolation and misery, are tremendously mistaken, as he saw nothing of it, and no signs of poverty at all, the farmers being, if not exactly overflowing with enthusiasm, at least cheerful and hopetul, working hard and doing well. The linseed is not only all down but already inches over the ground, a splendid picture on both sides of the line, whilst the land is ploughed and ready for the wheat. From Capivara to San Cristobal is an estancia country, fine establishments and camps and stock all doing well. Messrs Beck and Herzof are working steadily on fine forests of Nandubay, for which they find a profitable outlook. The Casa Nanducita, which is a big Swiss almacen, is doing a roaring business. It is very encouraging to learn that poor Santa Fé is not in such a tearful condition after all as was supposed.

Business in gold at the second hour was again a mere bagatelle, only 314,000 dollars sold, mainly for cash, as on dates there are no buyers. The price opened and closed at 295, which was also the price after the hour, sellers over. Stocks were a trifle livelier, though nothing much to speak of, Catalinas being done at 8, Constructors at 4, Buenos Aires Ports at 20¼, Obligations at 80 cents, and New Italian Banks at 82. The new Municipal bonds improved to 77. Cedulas were very quiet, almost neglected.

The statement from the lips of the Finance Minister that the sums owing to Berlin have been wiped out, as published in our last issue, have created a very favorable impression, especially as it is accompanied by a categorical denial of the rumours so heedlesly and flippantly floated of the ordinary expenditure being seriously in arrears. Dr Escalante roundly denies this. He says the Government has no remittances to make up to January, and has therefore refused several offers of exchange. The "Intendencia de Guerra" is ahead of time instead of being behind, having collected its quantum—$320.000 monthly—to end of June. The School Board's subventions spring from the Licence and Land Taxes, the accounts for which have not been liquidated yet, so that naturally the percentage cannot be estimated. However, the Minister has ordered a payment on account to cover salaries. This dispels much of the hard-up rumour so industriously woven for the National Exchequer, and which seems, to say the least of it, greatly exaggerated. It should be borne in mind at same time that many ot the items of the ways and means, as we have pointed out before, have proved faulty. and Congress will have to be more prudent and careful this year when the Budget comes on.

The President of the Republic signed to-day the decree granting to Mr. William Goodwin, the right to erect Grain Elevators in Dock 2 of the Madero Port. The works will cost $300,000 gold, but only $25,000 paper is exacted as guarantee, and the Elevators must be finished within 14 months.

The Finance Minister has ordered payment of $100,000, on account of the $8,000,000, due to the Board of Education. "Gran cosa!"

The exchauge market is still dead-and-alive, nothing doing and rates stiff as a ñandubay post. The brokers say that the banks hold out for 48d, 5.02½ francs Paris and 5.03 Antwerp which, for the time of year and circumstances, are very high rates and are not forthcoming. but as they will not take under, the market is at a stand-still. We quote

London—47 15/16d.
Paris—5-5.01 fcs.
Antwerp—5.02 ½ fcs.
Hamburg—4.08 mks.

The Rio rate is cabled a trifle weaker at 7 11/16d.

Discounts unaltered 5½ to 6¼ gold and 7 to 7½ paper.

The commercial cables to-day give following quotations: Fundings 88, Cedulas B 29¾, C 29¼, E 29¼, linseed 29/- and maize at 13 3/. Combed B wool in Antwerp is quoted at 3 87½.

The sales in the Produce Markets this morning embraced:—

40,000 kilos wool.
280,000 " maize.
400,000 " wheat.

The Finance Minister has decided that the imported cigars referred to in the decree of the 8th inst.; shall apply to all cigars in stock, not yet sold, whether they be in the hands of the importers or those of the wholesale or retail dealers.

THE VICTORIA SAILORS' HOME.

The Queen Victoria Commemoration Committee have begun sending aorward the circular published at foot. ot is an appeal to all British subjects, to fll descendants of Britishers, and to all sympathisers, to subscribe for the erection If a memorial to commemorate an unique event in British History, and that memorial is to take the shape of a Sailors' Home—there would be no nobler tribute to the sovereign who rules the waves than a refuge for the toilers of the sea. In the loyal, charitable, unsectarian object let all join hands and answer the appeal according to their respective means.

Apart from the great event that the Memorial will commemorate at the gates of our city, within hail of the docks—there is in this resolution of the British residents to build a Sailors' Home a breadth of view, a field of action, that silences all differences, and must weld all the elements of the community into one common aspiration to see the generous idea immediately carried out. We have no doubt that all will respond to the charitable call, and help in the cause.

The following is the circular sent out by the Committee to the British residents and descendants of Britishers in the Republic:—

COMMITTEE:

Hon. W. A. C. Barrington, Chairman.
T. S. Boadle.	W. F. Mulhall.
F. W. Barrow.	J. F. Roberts.
Ronald Bridgett.	John Russell.
John Dunn.	R. Inglis Runciman.
John Drysdale.	H. C. Thompson.
Rev. J. W. Fleming.	Rymer O. Watson.
P. Ham.	W. Warden.
A. Mackintosh.	J. C. Zimmermann.
H. M. Mills.

At the meeting held in Prince George's Hall on 21st April, 1897, a Committee was appointed to consider various schemes proposed for the commemoration of the 60th anniversary of the accession to the throne of Her Majesty Queen Victoria.

The Committee submitted its report to a general meeting held on 6th May, 1897, and recommended the following :—

1.—A congratulatory telegram to the Queen, and a request to employers to give their employees a holiday.

3.—Performance of the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore."

4.—The erection of a Sailors' Home as a permanent memento of the event, to be handed over to the Sailors' Home Committee on completion.

These proposals were adopted. The above Committee has been appointed to carry them into effect, and it now appeals to those who sympathise with the object for subscriptions to the fund required for the purpose.

The land for the proposed Sailors' Home has been granted by Congress free of charge and for the erection and furnishing of the building it is estimated that a sum of about $80,000 will be required. Statistics submitted to the Committee relative to the working of the present Home (the rent of which is $300 per month) show that with a more suitable building, free of rent and properly equipped, the institution would be almost self-supporting, so that, while it will be a lasting memento of an event which is unique in the history of the British Empire, it is not likely that there will be an increased call on the annual subcribers for its maintenance. Appended will be found a few particulars of the work done by the present Home.

It would be very appropriate were the fund completed by the 22nd of June, and the Committee will feel obliged if you will kindly fill up the annexed form and send it with the amount of your subscription to the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. R. Inglis Runciman.

Subscriptions may be paid into the following Banks to the credit of "The Victoria Commemoration Fund," viz:—

The London & River Plate Bank.
The British Bank & South America.
The London & Brazilian Bank.
The Anglo-Argentine Bank.

William A. C. Barrington, Chairman.
J. W. Fleming. Secretary.
